

TOILET SOAP NOODLE

TFM 55%

General Information

| | |
|------------|-------------|
| Origin | Indonesia |
| HS Code | 3401.20.20 |
| Cas No. | 143-07-7 |
| Appearance | White Solid |

Application

Detergent Industry

It is produced by saponifying vegetable oils such as palm oil, coconut oil or olive oil, and/or animal fat (tallow) using sodium hydroxide. Soap noodles are considered to be the basic precursors of soap. It can be used to make various types of soap, for example, toilet soap, laundry soap, and translucent soap.

Specification

| Parameters | Unit | Specification |
|--------------------------|------|---------------|
| Total Fatty Matter | % | 55 ± 1 |
| Moisture Content | % | 21 - 23 |
| Free Alkali as NaOH | % | 0.1 max |
| Free Chloride as NaCl | % | 0.4 - 0.8 |
| Glycerol Content | % | 5 - 8 |
| Titer Point | °C | 46 - 48 |
| Alcohol Insoluble Matter | % | 10 - 13 |

Packaging

25 Kgs / Woven Bags